A letter from an aunt in Vancouver, written to Mr. Hall

I

Character - U.E.L. stands for United Empire Loyalists just in case you don't know.

William Vanderbank's Father had worked for the French Government when Wolfe put it over Montcalm. He was out of a job, so came up the river until he came to a place he liked, between Kingston and Belleville, called "Bath", cleared a piece of land built a house, and there Williamena was born. When she grew up she married a man named German, may have been one of Wolfe's men that did not go back to England. He squatted on land at Hay Bay, Prince Edward Co., Ont, and there a daughter Eva Ann was born (my Grandma Smith's mother).

Eva Ann grew up and married a man named Griggs. He was a ship builder, and the day Grandma was born they launched a boat called Cinderella, belonging to a man named Davis (Davy) so as Grandma was born at the same hour, she was named after the boat her Father had built. Cinderella was the youngest of five, three boys, two girls. Her sister was named Jane. That's where mother got the Jane in her name. Jane Griggs married a chap from Boston named Wannamaker, he had come to Hay Bay to visit his cousins, the Wannamakers still are store keeper in Boston. Two of Grandma's brothers went West as young men and settled near Brandon, Man. The other brother was killed in the war between the North and South when Grandma was sixteen. She met and married Walter Rufus Parells and married him, went to the Carrying Place, P. E. Co.

the first time I have ever seen a bird fly so low over water. It was a dark bird with a long tail and long wings. It alighted on the water and swam about for a few moments. Then it flew away. I have seen many birds in the woods and fields but never one like this.
I have seen a great many birds in the woods and fields but never one like this. I have seen a great many birds in the woods and fields but never one like this. I have seen a great many birds in the woods and fields but never one like this. I have seen a great many birds in the woods and fields but never one like this.

Out, to live. Then she had seven little Parcells. The farm that they were born on was supposed to come to Walter Rufus. But Richard his father had not made a will.
 Richard died a few weeks after Walter Rufus, and the rest of Richard's children put in a claim. The place was sold, and Grandma bought a house in Brighton — she afterwards married a man named Smith, and had three more children.
 They did not mind a large family in those days and both man and woman married the second ~~time~~ and even third time. But my sister Flo, I think, is the only one that married five times.

Now the Claim to U. E. L.

John Parcells married a Mrs Parliament, widow of a U. E. L. and she herself had come over when the States fought for independence. A son of this marriage Richard Parcells.
 Richard married Sarah Porter, eldest daughter of Timothy Porter, also U. E. L.

Walter Rufus was third youngest son of a family of twelve children (this inclosed clipping that you will return to me. Mrs. Anderson was Walter Rufus' sister. ~~So~~ So she was Mother's Aunt.

Mrs. Porter, Sarah's mother, was sister of Abraham Simmons, also U. E. L. Abraham Simmons was great grandfather of Sir Gilbert Parker, and Sir Gilbert's mother's name was Parcells. I think she was about second cousin of Mother's.
